WASHINGTON, July 17. The President's veto message was entirely unexpected, and fell like a wet blanket up-on his friends in both Houses of Congress, which has gone further in compliance with his wishes than ever did Legislature before for Executive. We find this in the correspondence of the Tribune, a notorious rebel sheet of New York. A good deal is here expressed and more supposed. The radicals were awkwardly situated. Discarding punctilio and maxims adapted to more manageable times, and looking only to the unprecedentedly stern facts of our case, can you do better in any possible event? You prefer that the constitutional relation of the States to the nation shail be practically restored without disturbance of the institution; and, if this were done, my whole duty in this respect, under the Constitution and my oath of office, would be performed. But it is not done, and we are trying to accomplish it by war. The incidents of the war cannot be avoided. If the war continues long, as it must if the object he not sooner attained, the institution in your States will be exinguished by mere friction and abrasionthe mere incidents of the war. It will gone, and you will have nothing valuable in lieu of it. Much of its value is gone already. How much better for you and your people to take the step which shortens the war, and secures substantial compensation for that which is sure to be wholly lost in any other event! How much better to thus save the money which else we sink forever in the war! How much better to do it while we can, lest the war ere long render us pecuniarily unable to do it! How much better for you, as selier, and the nation, as buyer, to sell out and buy out without which the war could never have been, than to sink both the thing to be soid and the price of it in cutting one another's throats.

I do not speak of emancipation at once but of a decision at once to emancipate gradually. Room in South America for colonization can be obtained cheaply, and in abundance, and when numbers shall be large enough to be company and encouragement for one another, the freed people will not he so rejuctant to go.

The pressure in this direction is still upon me, and is increasing. By conceding what I now ask you can relieve me. and, much more, can relieve the country

A company of cavalry, raised in Covington on Saturday and Sunday, by Captain John Todd, departed for Cynthiana last evening, on the cars of the Kentucky Central Railroad. The company numbered fifty men, all well mounted and equipped. Lieut. Joe M. Kennedy, formerly of the Fremont Body Guard, accompanied them.

The Sixteenth Kentucky regiment, Col. Craddock, which went up the railroad Saturday afternoon, left Falmouth (thirty-nine miles from Covington), yesteriay afternoon, for the purpose of marching to Cynthiana. The latter place was occupied by Union troops under Colonel Berry, Satur day afternoon, at four o'clock, the rebels having quietly evacuated it, after sacking all the stores in the town and destroying Camp Frazier, together with a large amount of present misfortunes in the errors and of Government stores. They burned up wrongs of others, who now propose to unite one hundred tents, and stole four hundred Government stores. of the best horses in the neighborhood. They also carried off a large quantity clothing. Our informant thinks that nearly every one of Morgan's men got a new suit.

> Capi. Glass, of Cincinnati, has returned, and makes a report of the Cynthiana fight, from which we extract the following:

His force consisted of sixteen men, a 12ound cannon, caisson and ammunition, together with eight steam fire-engine horses from this city. Four of these horses were grays, and belonged to the No. 1 Engine; four were bays, and belonged to the No. 5

The train arrived at Cynthiana at 2 clock, P. M., and the men were ordered by Col. Landrum to go to Judge Perrin's (secesh) for dinner. After dinner Col. L. ordered them to hitch up, and started out to show them the positions, though no battle was expected at that time. out on what might be termed a sconting expedition, crossing the Licking bridge on the Georgetown pike. Col. Landrum, Capt. Plass, and Lient. Moore were together. When they got about half a mile beyond the bridge, our pickets came riding in in hot haste, crying out that Morgan was coming in force to attack the town.

Col. Landrum then ordered them to return; re-crossing the bridge, the gun was posted at the intersection of two streets, about 600 yards from the bridge, commanding it, the street intersecting Main at that distance from the bridge. As Morgan afterwards told Giass, he commanded this division in person, with 400 men. As they made their appearance through the bridge Capt. G. opened on them with grape. Morgan replied with a brass howitzer, firing shell. The rebels were here held in check about fifteen minutes.

Meantime, a second division of Morgan's force made its appearance at the head of Pike street, from an opposite direction. Wheeling his gnn, he fired at them there, immediately afterwards opening on the first division again. Pretty near the same time they made their appearance upon the north, coming down the hill into Main street, beside Camp Frazer, (where the 25th Ohio, Col. Vanderveer, encamped when that regiment took possession of Cynthi-ana.) Seeing himself surrounded, Capt. Glass told his men to disperse and save themselves, which they did—each one anding the best hiding place he could. A company of Home Guards, numbering about fifty, held the band that approached

CAIRO, July 21. The dispatch boat which arrived from Memphis Saturday, brings the following: The reported escape of the rebel gunboat Arkansas is correct. The affair took place on the morning of the 15th. That morning, in consequence of reports brought of these celebrated DRILLS to by refugees that the Arkansas was about to run by the Federal fleet, the gunboats Carondelet, Tyler, and ram Lancaster started up Yazoo river to reconnoiter.

Eight miles from the mouth they came suddenly upon the Arkansas, lying under the bank. As our boats rounded the bend she opened upon them with 68 pounders. Our gunboats returned the fire for a short time and a fierce engagement ensued.

ing the last two seasons than all Finding the channel of the river pre other kinds, and they have never vented successful maneuvering, they grad-ually dropped down towards the mouth, the Arkansas following closely. Just as the latter was passing over the bar the Cafailed in any instance to do their rondelet sheered her intending to board. She succeeded in throwing a grapple aboard and getting out plank, when the Arkansas It took the First Premium at the opened her steam pipe, throwing hot water across her plank. The Carondelet replied Warranted to give satisfaction in in the same manner. While thus engaged both vessels grounded. The shock separated them. The Arkansas succeeded in get-ting off, while the Carondelet remained fast Cash Price--Eight Hoe Drill, $75. for nearly an hour. The Arkansas immediately passed down the river, the Tyler pre ceding her, and maintaining a running fight with her greatly superior adversary.

None of our gunboats with the fleet had steam up, and the entire fleet was so scattered that few could fire at the Arkansas as she passed without the danger of hitting our own boats. As she approached, such boats as could safely do so, opened upon her; but her plating resisted most of the shots. A solid shot from Farragut's gun-boat No. 6, struck her larboard bow, passing through the under plating, ripping it off for a considerable distance. What further damage was done was not ascertained. The injuries to our fleet were light.

Benton received a shot near the after part of the larboard side, killing one man. The Tyler, which engaged the Arkansas nearly an hour and a half, had seven killed and nine wounded. Among the latter were Pilots Sebastian and Hiner, and Engineer The ram Lancaster received a shot in her poilers, causing the escape of hot water, scalding six men, three of them fatally.

The entire Federal loss is twelve killed and fifteen wounded. Five or six of the wounded will die. The rebel loss is not known, but it is believed to be heavy, as the Carondelet threw streams of hot water when they attempted to board her. CAPE RACE, July 21. The steamer Asia, from Liverpool the 12th, via Queenstown the 13th, was boarded off this point at ten o'clock this morning. The Asia's advices are two days' later. The fighting before Richmond is treated a severe reverse for the Unionists, by the whole English press, and Gen. McClellan's position is regarded as precarious. Lord l'almerston had stated that the British troops would not be withdrawn from Canada. The recognition of Italy by Russia

Prussia had been announced in the Italian Parliament. The London Herald treats the affair before Richmond as a decision of the safety of the Confederate Capital from McClellan. It does not believe, however, that the campaign in Virginia is ended, but supposes uplifted swords, and in the name of human-ty enforces peace. The London Morning Post argues that, practically, the scheme against Richmond has terminated. It then proceeds to point out the dangerous position of Gen. McClel-

Inn's army.

The London Globe hopes that the gigan-tic difficulties which are being developed in the war, may have an effect on both sides, and that more reasonable views may super-sede the plan of military conquest. The Times urges that the fighting before Richmond must have been of the highest mportance, and McClellan's position cannot but be precarious, and the Confederates are strong enough to hold their position in Virginia for a time that may be indefinitely prolonged. Evidently the Federals will have again to begin the seige of Richmond with a much worse chance than at first. The new American tariff continues to excite strong hostile comment. The Times bitterly denounces the spirit which regards the tariff with satisfaction, because of its injurious effect upon England in particular and Europe in general. The freedom of the city of London was presented to George Peabody in a gold snuff The ceremony of awarding the prizes of the Great Exhibition took place on the 11th. The attendance was estimated at 100,000 The fortification bill was again debated in the House of Commons, and an amendment calculated to preserve to the House of Commons due control over the expendiinre of the navy carried by a majority of five against the ministry.

In the House of Lords, on the 11th, Lord Brongham called attention to the slave trade, and urged that the credit assumed to themselves for the measures recently taken for the suppression of the trade. The bill for the carrying of the treaty finally passed the House of Commons. France.-The Paris Patrie asserts that France will never treat with Juarez. Ween the French army has entered the city of Mexico the Mexicans will be consulted and their wishes scrupulously respected. France will only quit Mexico after the omplete execution of a future treaty.

The Presse says the date of Gen. Forris leparture for Mexico is still doubtful.

The Presse says that the French army will comprise several divisions of lnfantry and a proportionate number of batteries It is reported that stores were provided for 300,000 men. The London money market, owing to favorable bank return, and the increasing abundance of money, the funds had strengthened and consuls advanced \( \frac{1}{2} \).

Latest via Queenstown, July 13 .- At the great exhibition among the awards ln general for machinery, America gets twenty medals for agricultural and horticultural machines, six for military articles, and one medal each for Colt's revolvers and for naval auchitecture.

FORTRESS MONROE, July 20. The steamer Lousiville arrived here this norning with about 420 Union men on poard, paroled prisoners who were put on board about 12 miles this side of Richmond, to which place the rebels brought them in ambulances, and delivered them over to our Government. They have been confined in prison 17 days, were taken at Sauage's station and other places at the commencement of the battle, and were at the time mostly in hospitals. They say they have been well-used. About 80 have been sent to New York in a salling vessel, and the remainder will go to Philadelphia in the Louisiana from here to-night., Their names have already been published.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF VIRGINIA, ? Washington, July 21.

To. Hon. E. M. Stanton Secretary, of War: The cavalry expedition I directed General The cavalry expedition I directed General King to send out on the 18th has returned. They left Fredericksburg at 7, r. m., on the I9th, and after a forced march during the night made a descent at daylight in the morning upon the Virginia Central railroad at Beaver Dam Creek, 25 miles from Hanover Junction, and 35 miles from Richmond. They destroyed the railroad and telegraph line for several miles, and burned up the depot, which contained 40.

The affair was most successful, and reflects high credit upon the commanding officer and the successful sent to these headquarters. upon the commanding officer and his troops. As soon as full particulars are received. I will transmit to you the name of the commanding officer of the troops engaged. I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant, (Signed) JOHN POPE.

Major-General Commanding. FORTRESS MONROE, July 21. I learn from a gentleman recently from Suffolk, that some little excitement prevails there, on account of rumors that the rebels are building bridges across the Black Water river, which is thought to be preparatory to an attack on Suffolk. Our informant thought the rumors quite likely to be false, but said that the sutlers there were careful not to keep a large stock of goods on hand; that they had been advised not to do so. The steampship Merrimac arrived here last evening from Port Royal, but brought no news from that section. The mailboat John A. Warner has arrived from Harrison's Landing, and reports all quiet there. There is no news from our army. The rebel army had fallen back ten miles towards Richmond.

The number of slck and wounded within the District of Columbia is 3,500. The following is an extract of a letter found in the postoffice at Jacksonville, N. C., upon the occupation of that place by the United States forces. It establishes beyond all doubt the truth of the ata tements heretofore made as to the atrocities committed by the rebels on the dead bodies of our soldiers: Camp Peckes, Manassas Junction, Dec. 2, 1962. MY DEAR SISTER: I have seen more since I have been in this war than I ever ex-pected to see in my life. I went on that battle-field one day where the great battle was fought, and I saw more than I ever want to see again. I saw soldiers from Georgia grabble up Yankees that had been buried. I saw them pull off their heads and scrape the meat and hair off, and take the skull bone with them to send home for their folks to see.

Gen. Halleck gane to Washington.

Affairs at Warrenton.

Sunday Night's Dispatches. WASHINGTON, July 20.

A special to the New York Herald has authority for stating that General Halleck has not come to Washington as Commander-in-Chief of the army. He may be Secretary of War, as it is believed Stanton coln will appoint General Banks Secretary of War, and General Hallock Military Adviser.

Another dispatch says President Linsoln, in his late visit to the army, asked McClellan if hedesired to resume command of the whole United States army, but Mo-

The rebel army numbered about two hundred and fifty thousand. General Ewell was severely wounded in the neck. Joe Johnson had experienced a relapse, and mortification of his wound was feared.

PHILADELPHIA, July 20. A special dispatch to Formy's Press, dated Memphis, July 10, says: The Grenada-Memphis Appeal, of the 9th, reports that a rebel ram and iron-clad gunboat (Arkansas), under command of Capi. J. N. Bryan, came down from Yazoo river on the 8th, and ran by a portion of our fact, which is above Vicksburg, successfully, and anchored under the batteries surrounding the city.

Our loss is 10 killed and 13 wounded. The Federal less is not known, but is said to have been heavy.

An Englishman representing himself as a son of the Duke of Somerset was found at headquarters a few days ago under suspicious circumstances. He stated that he was with the rebel General Pryor during the recent battles. He was sent North. MEMPHIS, July 17.

The Grenada Appeal, of the 13th, has a Mobile dispatch of the same date which says a special to the Advertiser states that the Richmond Enquirer says it is no longer doubtful that our lines have been brought closer to Richmond, but a large force has been left immediately in front of the enemy as an army of observation.

Gen. Stuart, on last Wednesday, with a few pieces of artillery, again made for Gen. McClellan's position. He reached James river below him and opened fire on a large feet of transports sinking one and disabling several.

Yesterday's Noon Dispatches. [Special to the New York Tribune.] WASHINGTON, July 20. We have advices from Warrenton up to this evening.

The news that General Hatch has reached

Charlottsville, and cut off the most import-ant sources of rebel supplies, is the subject of great rejoicing in the army.

These bold movements, and the recent warlike orders of General Pope, begin to inspire something like admiration for him among the soldiers, who have not, as yet, seen the face of their new commander. In obedience to the spirit, as well as the temper, of General Popes instructions, the rich and aristocratic rebels of Warrenton have already been placed under contribution for the support of the national army.

The leading families here received notice that all their spare mattresses and bed clothing will be required for our sick and wounded soldiers, and that all the unoccupied rooms in their mansions, and, if necessary, the entire building, will be used as hospitals. Col. Meyers, of McDowell's staff, to-lay took possession of Dr. Barton's large Female Seminary, in which 2.000 sick can easily be accommodated.

The grounds and springs surrounding the hotels and cottages were said to be finer than any other watering place in the whole country; and all leading physicians in the army of Gen. Pope are of the opinion that not one half as many deaths will occur here as in the hopitals at Washing-

The telegraphic lines were completed to Sperryvilte to-day. Gen. Pope now has telegraphic communication to his three army corps.

Arrivals from Sperryville report almost daily skirmishing between Sigel's pickets and the role! sexua, near the gap at Luray, and several of the enemy had been killed. Gen. McDowell arrived here yesterday, and has pitched his headquarters in the field. On Wednesday evening Gen. Banks paid a vist of courtesy to Gen. Hartsuff s brigade of Gen. McDowell's corps. This brigade was formerly commanded by Gen.

His visit was unannounced, but notwithstanding the lateness of the hour it was

Washington, July 20, There is reason to believe that the President will soon issue one or more general orders to the armiss of the United States, in which he will lay down certain general rules for the conduct of the war-such rules as any one desirous of carrying out the principles of the confiscation and emancipation act would adopt and enforce. It is now positively known that the President, under the advice of Gen. Scott, and with the acquiescence of Gen. McClellan, has called Major-General Halleck to Washington to act as General-in-Chief of the armies of the United States. He will have control of the operations in the field, thus relieving Secretary Stanton of some of his official business.

WARRENTON, VA., July 17. The burning of the railroad bridge over the Rapedon river was caused by a miswill retire, thus relieving the President of embarrassment, and that President Linguistry and that President Linguistry and that President Linguistry and the soldiers, instead of by any order emanating from General Banks, or the immediate commander of the expension will appoint General Banks. dition, Brigadier General Hatch. The river, however, is fordable at this season at many points near the bridge, and its destruction can be a matter of no great importance either wuy.

NEW YORK, July 21. Clellan preferred to retain his present command. It is also stated that the chief command was offered to Pope, and declined.

> WASHINGTON, July 20. Hon. John S. Phelps has been appointed Military Governor of Arkausas, with full powers. The purpose is to assist the loyal people to re-establish the Government there in accordance with the Constitution.

> PHILADELPHIA, July 20. The Governor will call an extra session of the Legislature in a few days to provide a State bounty. The constitution does not authorize him to take such action himself. M. Mercier, French Minister, has arrived here from Washington. Sr. Louis, July 20.

Gen. Halleck left for Washington by the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad this evening, accompanied by Gen. Cullum, Chief of Staff, ral Federal war vessels, and disabled many more. One of our vessels was blown up.

GREENMAN & TRUE'S

Sewing Machine! WARBANTED THE BEST IN THE MARKET. Elias Howe, Jr., and S. H. Roper's Combined Patents. Straight-Line Movements, Original Transverse Shuttle, and Periphery Clamp Feed-Wheel.

THESE SEWING MACHINES COMBINE THE most recent improvements, are nearly noiseless when in operation, run with the greatest case and rapidity, and are botter adapted for general purposes and family use than any other. They are not Hable to get out of order, are exceedingly slmple, and are made expressly for real practical utility; they do avery variety of sewing, from the finest woven itsute to the heaviest woolen goods, both tailoring and fine leather work. Any person may learn to operate them in a very short time. Any person may warn to operate them in a very short this.

The great difficulty with all other old-style Machtnes is too much complication, requiring so much constant adjustment, and such an amount of mechanical skill and ingentify to use them to advantage, as to retuler them of little comparative value. But the sewing Machines maintactured by Greenman & True are not liable to these objections, as any person, on even a moment's examination, will readily discover. They will do more and better work than any other Machine ever offered to the public, making the most beautiful lock-stileth, slike on both edges. Send for an off-hand specimen of sewing upon any material you wish, and you will then see slow it is done.
